Dennis Hooper

“After working with Dennis for only a few short months, his insight and knowledge of leadership behaviors has raised my awareness of my personal leadership style. His ability to provide real-life coaching tools has benefitted me both personally and professionally.”

Steve Story, Facility Manager, Weyerhaeuser Company, Natchitoches, LA

“Dennis’ insight and honesty have helped our business to a new level. Each time we talk, I leave with practical tools and a new perspective on resolving challenges and creating a sense of team in our firm. Dennis is the mentor I’ve sought for 14 years!”

Mike Sheehan, Managing Partner, MetLife of Greater Alabama, Birmingham, AL

“I had to lead a demanding, three-day meeting of a dysfunctional team of college professors from across the United States. I knew I needed help. From past experiences, I contacted Dennis. He asked tough questions before the meeting to identify desired outcomes. He provided feedback and guidance to me before, during, and after the meeting. Participants told me that this meeting was the most productive in six years! Dennis has a genuine interest and great skill in building highly productive organizations.”

T.J. Murphy,

Executive Director, National Network for Pulp & Paper Technology Training, Thomasville, AL

“I have been impressed with Dennis’ knowledge, skill, character, and competence. His breadth of knowledge and innate ability to lead small groups made him a perfect choice for our needs. He models the principles he teaches and is governed by characteristics such as faith, integrity, and personal growth.”

Dr. John Waters, Vice-President, Brewton-Parker College, Mt. Vernon, GA

“I am grateful for Dennis’ work with me over the past year. Although I was skeptical at first, Dennis’ professionalism, compassion, and genuine desire to impart wisdom allowed me to become a better person. Family members and business associates have seen a noticeable positive change.”

Rich Gallipoli, CLU, ChFC, Sound Wealth Financial Group, Woodbury, NY

“Dennis has shared his knowledge of leadership skills in clear, concise weekly articles for the past eight years. He offered our company practical steps that improved our systems and relationships. He is consistently encouraging, enthusiastic, and supportive--a quality coach, teacher, and friend!

Phil Lambert, Broker, Landmark Realty, Perry, GA

“Without Dennis’ guidance, I would never have felt comfortable ‘letting go.’ I have been able to delegate duties. I have taken a closer look at the things that matter to me, and I have spent more time on those.”

Martha McAfee, City Manager, City of Fort Valley, GA

“I have worked with Dennis for over 20 years. He has the listening and interviewing skills necessary to extract insightful information from individuals. At my request, he has supported building the confidence and competence of several key leaders within my organization.”

Cathy Slater, Vice-President, Veneer Technologies, Weyerhaeuser Company, Seattle, WA

Testimonials (Page 2 of 6)

"My capacity as a leader has expanded in every area of my life because of Dennis' coaching and mentoring. My vision, focus, and clarity as a leader has transformed from a self-serving leader to a servant leader. Dennis gives of his time, resources, wisdom, and love unconditionally."

Njeru Nthigah, Associate, Liberty League International, Atlanta, GA

"Dennis has been an outstanding, long term coach to me, providing highly useful insights not provided by any other person. I recommend Dennis to anyone seeking an insightful, wise, and positive consultant/coach. Partnering with him has enabled me to make significantly better business and life decisions."

Tom Schafer, Vice-President, Americredit, Fort Worth, TX

"Dennis was called upon to help individuals and teams deal with problems complicated by race and gender differences...His ability to build trust and deal with information confidentially enable him to effectively address many sensitive issues and facilitate effective solutions...I believe him to be honorably motivated, competent, and deeply committed to any challenge he accepts."

Curt Thomas, Organization Development Manager, Procter & Gamble Co., Oglethorpe, GA

"I've been to countless informative and expensive management seminars over the years, but none have been able to match Dennis' ability to give the 'how to' and 'tools' for improving a person's everyday walk at work, at home, and with Christ. Thank you, Dennis, for showing me the importance of serving others."

Bradford Price, Operations Engineer/Manager, Tolleson Lumber Co., Perry, GA

"Dennis successfully coached me on developing job skills that needed improvement. As a result, I feel much more confident about myself. Dennis has helped me build my direct reports into better leaders. I often share his weekly newspaper columns on leadership development with my staff and other members of our company—they pinpoint solutions and the advice is easy to implement!"

Mark Wharton, Vice-President, Vortech Cable and Electrical Contracting, Beltsville, MD

"Dennis is a highly professional, results-oriented coach. He has helped me become aware of many new concepts that enabled me to serve others. Dennis can help anyone on a quest for personal growth."

Michael Fliegelman, General Agent for Guardian Financial, Long Island, NY

"I've been associated with Dennis for over 30 years. During that time he has provided me with invaluable coaching and training. His support of my management style and my faith has been both amazing and appreciated. I particularly like to use his articles for weekly coaching and support for my own staff and clients."

Gary Giles, President, GGG Consulting, Greenville, NC

"Dennis' weekly articles on various aspects of leadership are insightful, helpful in my interaction with team members. His Christian values combined with wise application have provided many open doors for me to be a trusted leader and faithful witness."

The following are individuals Dennis Hooper has helped through difficult career transitions:

"I appreciate Dennis' positive attitude and listening skills as I contemplated big questions. He helped me define my strong skill areas. His organized approach fostered broad thinking as I faced an emotional decision. I look forward to my second teaching year!" John Andrews, former Process Engineer in a pulp mill, now a Math Teacher, Mount de Sales Academy, Macon, GA

"I found myself in the unenviable position of starting a new career at age 47. Dennis supported me while the shock was still fresh. He helped me recognize my greatest attributes. His able assistance helped me steer the boat among the shoals until I landed safely on the other side." Mike Stanley, former Project Engineer in a pulp mill, now an Industrial Engineer, Robins Air Force Base, GA

"Dennis' coaching sessions are invigorating and encouraging. His insight and experience really stretched my thinking, challenging me to break through barriers to my growth and stay focused despite uncertain circumstances in transition. Dennis is a great coach, and a better friend." Monty Parnell, Pharmacist, Georgia Correctional Healthcare, Oglethorpe, GA

"In 2005, I faced a crisis to find employment and purpose. Dennis stepped in, encouraging and helping me identify strengths and experiences that were actually quite valuable to a potential employer. I am grateful for Dennis' role in helping guide the way." Bill Best, former Sales Manager for WCOP radio, now Director of Programs, Teamcor LLC

"Dennis gave graciously of his time and resources, far exceeding my expectations. His mentorship had a direct impact on my professional development." Joel Conrad, Test Engineer, Northrop Grumman, Warner Robins, GA

“Dennis has been an incredible encourager and supporter. He is teaching us to organize, prioritize, and plan for our future. He is prompt, thorough, and dependable. He has a passion for teaching people to discover their strengths and to use their gifts. ‘Hooper and Friends’ is a very appropriate name, as anyone who works with Dennis will become his friend.”

Mary Pearson, President, Pearson Farms, mail order company, Fort Valley, GA

“Some of the key skills and attributes Dennis brought to the project: excellent customer service, communication skills, honesty and integrity, flexibility, and organizational skills. The investment I made with Dennis has paid off ten-fold.”

David Keene, Finance Manager, Weyerhaeuser Co., Federal Way, WA

“Dennis does an excellent job in his weekly newspaper articles of taking what might be an hour-long training session and condensing it to its key points. Further, I have found he is always open on his topics for additional dialogue with readers.”

Dick Martiny, retired Engineer, Weyerhaeuser Company, Oglethorpe, GA

“The one-day conference Dennis provided for our leadership team was excellent. I shared with him our goals and he took the time to listen and prepare accordingly. He targeted the issues we needed. The bottom line, our leaders were assisted in better understanding their responsibilities.”

Andy Aikens, Pastor, Grace Community Church, St. Cloud, FL

“Dennis’ coaching helped me make the paradigm shift necessary to be a system leader for a multi-plant organization without giving up my servant leadership style as a leader in a single plant.”

Trung Tran, Process Reliability Specialist, Weyerhaeuser Company, Seattle, WA

“Dennis possesses rare abilities to quickly and accurately assess the whole person and to provide direction for positive change. He is a qualified listener, teacher, and coach. I am more skilled at defining the important roles in life.”

Dr. Matt Dixon, Optometrist, Advanced Eyecare, Perry, GA
